Charlotte Newsletter March 2012

A message from Charles Bowman

North Carolina & Charlotte
Market President

The 2012 Arts and Science Council (ASC) campaign is underway and we are asking you to consider a contribution to help build participation and support for the arts, science, history and heritage in Charlotte-Mecklenburg. Bank of America and its employees have always generously supported the ASC, and today, the need is greater than ever. I believe, as do many of you, that a vibrant arts community is an essential part of our community's fabric. Our support of these organizations says a lot about who we are as a community.

In 2011, employees donated over $1 million and the goal is the same this year. Last year, this money helped to make a significant impact by providing more than 1 million educational experiences for our children and youth. It also generated $158 million in annual economic impact and provided more than 4,700 full time jobs.

I am proud of our continued support of ASC through this campaign. Please make your pledge today by visiting asc.bankofamerica.com.

ATTEND: Random Acts of Culture Event in Founders Hall

Join us for a lunchtime event celebrating the Arts & Science Council campaign in Founders Hall.

Date: Thursday March 1st

Time: 12:00-1:30 PM

Bring your lunch and be inspired by demonstrations, artist performances, live music and more! Learn more about ASC, the Arts & Culture Community Volunteers and integrate with the employee networks. A few lucky employees will also receive tickets to local arts and culture venues.

Employees Supporting ASC

Nat Hyde, Managing Director, US Trust
Arts and Culture Organization: Carolina Raptor Center

Nat's Story: The Carolina Raptor Center (CRC) has two functions: Education about birds of prey and the rehabilitation of injured raptors. My daughter Liz started volunteering when she was 16 and became a docent and bird handler. Liz has always had an interest in zoos, but the experience she had at the CRC helped solidify her career plans that she is now pursuing at NCSU. She continues to lead tours today when home from NCSU where she is majoring in Animal Science. When the recession hit and the CRC lost major funding, the CRC was quick to restructure and adapt the education role while preserving the rehabilitation efforts. Today, under the leadership of Jim Warren, the CRC continues its vital role in the two components of its mission and deserves our support through the ASC Campaign.

Tiffani Kaliko, SVP, Global Compliance
Arts and Culture Organization: Opera Carolina

Tiffani's Story: Tiffani is the president of Friends of the Opera, an auxiliary group that supports Opera Carolina, and an Ex Officio board member of Opera Carolina. Part of Opera Carolina's vision is to enrich the curriculum of schools and to make a difference in the education of our youth. Tiffani has personally watched Opera Carolina fulfill this mission, bringing music and opera to the young people and to our community as a whole. To date, these performances have touched over 1 million kids by adapting famous children stories to opera. For many children, this is their first introduction to the performing arts, and the lasting impacts are immeasurable. In addition, Opera Carolina opens its dress rehearsals for each opera to local students, allowing them to attend world class opera performances and to interact with opera stars.
